

Energy Storage Gigafactories in Germany

The infographic shows the number of Storage Gigafactories commissioned and announced in Germany and the geographical locations of said Gigafactories.

Energy Storage Gigafactories in Germany

No. of Gigafactories in Germany

Locations

- Most of these plants will be functional by 2024, leading to a surge in supply of storage solutions.
- American storage giant, Tesla has also announced plans to open a cell manufacturing Gigafactory in Germany. The Tesla Grünheide Battery Gigafactory is planned to have a capacity of over 100 GWh which will make it one of the largest battery manufacturing plants in the world.
- Other major market players investing in Gigafactories in Germany are Varta, sVolt, the Automotive Cells Company and Northvolt.
- Germany already has the highest market share of EVs and energy storage in Europe and with this expected increase of supply in Storage Technologies, this number will further increase.